

Vocabulary Practice: Bottlenose Dolphins

Please choose the most appropriate answer for each sentence.

Q1 Dolphins are mammals. There are various types of dolphins but bottlenose dolphins are the most common dolphin

- A species B summary C flight

Q2 Dolphins live in the ocean. Oceans are made up of water.

- A filtered B salt C fresh

Q3 Dolphins are very intelligent and use whistles and squeaks to with other dolphins.

- A melt B arrest C communicate

Q4 They understand each other well and scientists believe that they have their own

- A language B books C cards

Q5 Dolphins look like they have fun in the ocean because they play with each other as well as out of the water. Another word for this is jump.

- A shriek B run C leap

Q6 Dolphins and whales are examples of sea or mammals because they are warm-blooded but live in the ocean.

- A marine B air C land

Q7 Fish and sharks, however, are-blooded animals.

- A cold B warm C hot

Q8 Fish can breathe under water because they have, Dolphins don't have these.

- A ears B gills C scales

Q9 Dolphins don't have like fish but, instead, have smooth, rubbery skin.

- A surfs B fur C scales

Q10 Fish can breathe under water but dolphins have so they must come up to the surface for air.

- A hearts B kidneys C lungs

ANSWERS: Vocabulary Practice: Bottlenose Dolphins

Q1 Dolphins are mammals. There are various types of dolphins but bottlenose dolphins are the most common dolphin

A species

Q2 Dolphins live in the ocean. Oceans are made up of water.

B salt

Q3 Dolphins are very intelligent and use whistles and squeaks to with other dolphins.

C communicate

Q4 They understand each other well and scientists believe that they have their own

A language

Q5 Dolphins look like they have fun in the ocean because they play with each other as well as out of the water. Another word for this is jump.

C leap

Q6 Dolphins and whales are examples of sea or mammals because they are warm-blooded but live in the ocean.

A marine

Q7 Fish and sharks, however, are-blooded animals.

A cold

Q8 Fish can breathe under water because they have, Dolphins don't have these.

B gills

Q9 Dolphins don't have like fish but, instead, have smooth, rubbery skin.

C scales

Q10 Fish can breathe under water but dolphins have so they must come up to the surface for air.

C lungs