

Prepositional Phrases - At, By, For and To (1)

Please choose the most appropriate answer for each sentence.

Q1 My keys were on the table when I left this morning and, now, they are not on the table. I am ..... a loss as to where my keys could have gone.

- A at                      B by                      C for                      D to

Q2 I got into a car accident last Tuesday and I have to get my car fixed today. The other driver was ..... fault so I don't have to pay for the repairs but I still had to take time off of work to take the car into the shop.

- A at                      B by                      C for                      D to

Q3 I am sorry. I seem to have picked up your keys ..... mistake. Let's meet so that we can exchange them as soon as possible.

- A at                      B by                      C for                      D to

Q4 ..... date, no hard evidence that proves the existence of the Loch Ness monster has ever been found.

- A At                      B By                      C For                      D To

Q5 Today, I am going to install some baseboards ..... the foot of our stairs leading to the second story of our house.

- A at                      B by                      C for                      D to

Q6 I tried to quit smoking several times in the past. However, now I have quit ..... good. I'll never smoke another cigarette.

- A at                      B by                      C for                      D to

Q7 One should never say anything about anyone that he or she wouldn't say ..... that person's face.

- A at                      B by                      C for                      D to

Q8 Being laid-off took me completely ..... surprise. I just received a large performance-related bonus last month.

- A at                      B by                      C for                      D to

Q9 To get to the school, you drive up a large hill. ..... the top of the hill, you take a right and drive for one more block. The school is on the left-hand side.

- A At                      B By                      C For                      D To

Q10 Thanks for telling me about that movie. It is, ..... far, the best movie I have seen in months.

- A at                      B by                      C for                      D to

ANSWERS: Prepositional Phrases - At, By, For and To (1)

Q1 My keys were on the table when I left this morning and, now, they are not on the table. I am ..... a loss as to where my keys could have gone.

A at

Q2 I got into a car accident last Tuesday and I have to get my car fixed today. The other driver was ..... fault so I don't have to pay for the repairs but I still had to take time off of work to take the car into the shop.

A at

Q3 I am sorry. I seem to have picked up your keys ..... mistake. Let's meet so that we can exchange them as soon as possible.

B by

Q4 ..... date, no hard evidence that proves the existence of the Loch Ness monster has ever been found.

D To

Q5 Today, I am going to install some baseboards ..... the foot of our stairs leading to the second story of our house.

A at

Q6 I tried to quit smoking several times in the past. However, now I have quit ..... good. I'll never smoke another cigarette.

C for

Q7 One should never say anything about anyone that he or she wouldn't say ..... that person's face.

D to

Q8 Being laid-off took me completely ..... surprise. I just received a large performance-related bonus last month.

B by

Q9 To get to the school, you drive up a large hill. ..... the top of the hill, you take a right and drive for one more block. The school is on the left-hand side.

A At

Q10 Thanks for telling me about that movie. It is, ..... far, the best movie I have seen in months.

B by