

Vocabulary Practice: Bees (2)

Please choose the most appropriate answer for each sentence.

Q1 Bees are very useful animals because they not only make honey but they also ..... flowers and plants. They transfer pollen from one flower to another and this act makes plant reproduction possible in many cases.

- A buy                      B birth                      C paint                      D pollinate

Q2 Many bees live together in colonies. The female bees that do all of the work in a repetitive fashion are called ..... bees.

- A strong                      B worker                      C cohort                      D supporter

Q3 A large group of bees that are either living or travelling together is referred to as a .....

- A encampment                      B associates                      C swarm                      D herd

Q4 Honey ..... are created by bees and they are a cell-like storage container found inside hives. These structures contain honey and the bees' offspring.

- A allies                      B bears                      C combs                      D brushes

Q5 Bees ..... is secreted or released by bees and found in hives along with honey. This substance is also collected by bee keepers because it can be used to make candles. It's a yellowish, plastic-type material.

- A wand                      B cream                      C porridge                      D wax

Q6 Some people have serious bee sting ....., This means certain people have an immune reaction and symptoms include painful itching, swelling and trouble breathing.

- A declines                      B allergies                      C wands                      D sites

Q7 In a bee colony, there are male bees called ..... that have no stinging abilities and they also don't take part in collecting honey.

- A drones                      B experts                      C workers                      D kings

Q8 When parents talk to their children about reproduction in nature, we often say that they are talking about the ..... and bees.

- A foxes                      B streams                      C birds                      D owls

Q9 Bees work very hard in nature. So, when humans work really hard, we often say that they are as ..... as a bee.

- A hairy                      B painful                      C busy                      D small

Q10 Wild bees, ones that don't live in man-made hives, are often called ..... bees.

- A feral                      B brush                      C stagnant                      D vile

ANSWERS: Vocabulary Practice: Bees (2)

Q1 Bees are very useful animals because they not only make honey but they also ..... flowers and plants. They transfer pollen from one flower to another and this act makes plant reproduction possible in many cases.

D pollinate

Q2 Many bees live together in colonies. The female bees that do all of the work in a repetitive fashion are called ..... bees.

B worker

Q3 A large group of bees that are either living or travelling together is referred to as a .....

C swarm

Q4 Honey ..... are created by bees and they are a cell-like storage container found inside hives. These structures contain honey and the bees' offspring.

C combs

Q5 Bees ..... is secreted or released by bees and found in hives along with honey. This substance is also collected by bee keepers because it can be used to make candles. It's a yellowish, plastic-type material.

D wax

Q6 Some people have serious bee sting ..... This means certain people have an immune reaction and symptoms include painful itching, swelling and trouble breathing.

B allergies

Q7 In a bee colony, there are male bees called ..... that have no stinging abilities and they also don't take part in collecting honey.

A drones

Q8 When parents talk to their children about reproduction in nature, we often say that they are talking about the ..... and bees.

C birds

Q9 Bees work very hard in nature. So, when humans work really hard, we often say that they are as ..... as a bee.

C busy

Q10 Wild bees, ones that don't live in man-made hives, are often called ..... bees.

A feral