

Types of Cards (1)

Please choose the most appropriate answer for each sentence.

Q1 When people want to send personal, heartfelt messages to friends and family, they often buy and send cards. These cards can express a variety of feelings and are often geared toward special occasions such as birthdays, graduations etc.

- A credit B debit C greeting D ID

Q2 Specifically, when a person wants to express feelings of compassion and empathy when someone passes away, they will often send a card to the friends and/or family members who are experiencing the loss.

- A birthday B anniversary C sympathy D library

Q3 When my friend, Kory, goes to work out at the gym, he has to scan his card at the door before he can enter the gym. He pays a monthly fee to use the services and equipment, so the business verifies everyone's association and continued enrolment before they enter the establishment.

- A membership B graduation C anniversary D ATM

Q4 You can borrow books from the library, but you have to check out the books at the front desk before you can take them home. They will scan your card so they can record which books you've borrowed.

- A insurance B credit C library D graduation

Q5 When you take and pass your driving exam, you will be given a driver's license. You have to have this card on you at all times while driving. You can also use this card for purposes because it's a government issued card.

- A money B membership C identification D graduation

Q6 When you buy a car, you also have to have a current card in your car or on you at all times. This card shows proof of ownership and verifies that your car particulars are listed and recorded at the local Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV) office.

- A registration B debit C library D membership

Q7 When you want to withdraw money from your bank account, you can use your ATM or card to do so in most bank machines.

- A gift B ID C license D debit

Q8 If you have a card, you can purchase items on this card, and then make payments on the purchase amounts, along with accrued interest, at a later date.

- A sympathy B credit C insurance D membership

Q9 You have to have a valid card when operating any motor vehicle. This is a card that contains your policy number and your broker's information. This type of policy provides coverage and compensation for motorists and pedestrians in case of an accident or mishap while operating a motor vehicle.

- A registration B license C insurance D birthday

Q10 If you want to celebrate and commemorate how many years you've been married, you can say "I love you" by giving your spouse an card as a gift.

A birthday

B graduation

C sympathy

D anniversary

Get this PDF from english.best/shop

ANSWERS: Types of Cards (1)

Q1 When people want to send personal, heartfelt messages to friends and family, they often buy and send cards. These cards can express a variety of feelings and are often geared toward special occasions such as birthdays, graduations etc.

C greeting

Q2 Specifically, when a person wants to express feelings of compassion and empathy when someone passes away, they will often send a card to the friends and/or family members who are experiencing the loss.

C sympathy

Q3 When my friend, Kory, goes to work out at the gym, he has to scan his card at the door before he can enter the gym. He pays a monthly fee to use the services and equipment, so the business verifies everyone's association and continued enrolment before they enter the establishment.

A membership

Q4 You can borrow books from the library, but you have to check out the books at the front desk before you can take them home. They will scan your card so they can record which books you've borrowed.

C library

Q5 When you take and pass your driving exam, you will be given a driver's license. You have to have this card on you at all times while driving. You can also use this card for purposes because it's a government issued card.

C identification

Q6 When you buy a car, you also have to have a current card in your car or on you at all times. This card shows proof of ownership and verifies that your car particulars are listed and recorded at the local Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV) office.

A registration

Q7 When you want to withdraw money from your bank account, you can use your ATM or card to do so in most bank machines.

D debit

Q8 If you have a card, you can purchase items on this card, and then make payments on the purchase amounts, along with accrued interest, at a later date.

B credit

Q9 You have to have a valid card when operating any motor vehicle. This is a card that contains your policy number and your broker's information. This type of policy provides coverage and compensation for motorists and pedestrians in case of an accident or mishap while operating a motor vehicle.

C insurance

Q10 If you want to celebrate and commemorate how many years you've been married, you can say "I love you" by giving your spouse an card as a gift.

D anniversary